50's & 60's Rock'n Roll... The way it was meant to be!

Rock'n Roll Here to Stay!

Holly's music not fade away

Richie Lee from Des Moines, Iowa, was singing almost before he could talk. At the age of 7 he won a Buddy Holly look alike lip sync contest in Des Moines Iowa, sponsored by KJJY Radio. His interest in Buddy Holly began at the age of 6, listening to CD's. He began taking guitar lessons at age 11 and drums at age 12. Richie has performed on stage with Winter Dance Party Drummer Carl Bunch, Holly Backup singers the Roses, The Tolletts, Larry Welborn, and friend, the Legendary Peggy Sue Gerron as well as Tommy Allsup.

"It's a dream come true"

Performing Holly's music at '50s style dances and clubs. The band's ability to get the crowd dancing can be traced to Lee's drive to stay true to the original songs. He even has the same guitar his favorite artist, Buddy Holly, played: a 1955 Fender Stratocaster. "I like everything perfect," Lee said. His parents' tastes drew him to classic rock 'n roll. "My parents always listened to it, and I kind of adapted to it," Lee said. "I really like the style of music. And it's fun to play, too."

September 2, 2007 Arnolds Park, IA, Roof Garden Richie Lee performed for 14 members of the Ritchie Valens family. Playing with IRRMA All Star Band for the induction of Ritchie Valens into the Iowa Rock'n Roll Music Association Hall of Fame. Richie Lee 17 and at the same age Ritchie Valens was when he died in the plane crash. Richie sang "Come On Let's Go", "Donna" and La Bamba" with Mario, Ritchie Valens brother.
